About EOYDC.....

Founded in 1973, the East Oakland Youth Development Center (EOYDC) is a community-based 501(c)(3) nonprofit agency dedicated to developing our children and youth into healthy, self-supporting and aware citizens and adults. Since 1978 the Center's FREE comprehensive programs have been coordinated to meet our clients' emotional, physical, intellectual, and economic needs. The Center is open Monday through Friday and is located in the Elmhurst District of East Oakland. While our primary focus are the residents of the East Oakland community, all youth and their families are welcome to participate in the services offered at the EOYDC.

EOYDC offers programs in the following areas:

Basketball is a primary activity at the East Oakland Youth Development Center because of our outstanding basketball facility.

10 & Under Basketball League

Our 10 & Under Basketball league is available to boys and girls ages 6-10. This program focuses on very basic basketball skill development such as rules, stationary dribbling, and games.

Tournament Basketball

EOYDC hosts an Invitational Tournament every year, hosted by EOYDC alum, Gary Payton. This tournament hosts both men and women's high school teams. The following recognition is awarded at the end of the tournament: Most Valuable Player, All Tournament, Academic Achievement, Sportsmanship, and Dunk Contest.

Black College League

Our Black College Basketball League is available to boys and girls ages 14-17. This program offers a more advanced skill development for youth who already possess basic skills and have the ability to perform under league guidelines. The league is for fun, however, competition is encouraged and rules are strictly enforced.
