EOYDC Culture

We declare that, to the best of our ability, we will extol and model for our youth and others the virtues of moral excellence in a way that is professional, success oriented and goal oriented. We fully expect our youth to learn and uphold the value of decency, good character, kindness, self-respect and temperance while showing much love for self and the community. We further declare that as we promote and foster these tenets, we hold ourselves accountable and responsible for the young leaders that are under our influence until they have been nurtured, to live and lead with dignity, compassion and integrity
